Dr. Anthony LaVacca is the cosmetic and implant dentist who is right for you! What qualities make Dr. Anthony LaVacca an outstanding dentist? He is truly an artist and an engineer in cosmetic and implant dentistry. He understands today's advanced techniques to provide "Smiles That Say Wow!"™

Dr. LaVacca's dedication to excellence began after completing his undergraduate studies at Rutgers University in New Jersey. He earned his Doctor of Dental Medicine, DMD, at Temple University in Philadelphia. He then completed a general practice residency at a Veterans Hospital. He obtained a certificate in Post Graduate Prosthodontics at Montefiore Medical Center, Bronx New York. He is currently a board eligible Prosthodontist and lectures both nationally and internationally.

Prior to moving to Chicago, he worked with Prosthodontist Dr. David Silken on the upper east side of Manhattan for several years and still maintains his license to a practice in New York.

Dr. LaVacca has received several honorary recognitions for his contribution to the field of Dentistry. He is an author on Cosmetic Ceramic Restorative Materials, which placed second in the American College of Prosthodontists meeting.

He was affiliated with the Chicago Black Hawks as one of the team's dentist from 2005-2010 and supported the team during the Stanley Cup Championship.

Dr. LaVacca maintains memberships with the American College of Prosthodontists, American Dental Association, The International Congress of Oral Implantologists and Chicago Dental Society.
